To School Principal:

Declining creativity and rising obesity are certainly two of the most major challenges our children face. The Arts Olympiad brings the power of the arts as a force to reverse these trends. We invite your school’s participation in this innovative program.

Play is serious business for a child’s cognitive development. In particular, 8 to 12 year-olds are vulnerable to what researchers call the “4th-grade slump” in creativity, in which the ability to engage the body and imagination together at will in improvised, spontaneous, so-called “play” activities drops precipitously. According to the American Academy of Child & Adolescent Psychiatry, obesity is among the easiest medical conditions to detect but among the most difficult to remedy. Making lasting changes to an inclination for obesity in a child requires more than superficial declarations or behavioral mandates. As you know, several areas must be addressed but perhaps the most important is the inner life of the child.

No way is better at making a difference there than activities that foster children’s creativity and promote exercise not as a burden, but as a mode of self-expression. The attached Arts Olympiad Lesson Plan introduces students to the Artist-Athlete Ideal℠ of the creative mind and healthy body—mens sana in corpore sano. The objective of the lesson plan is to awaken the “inner artist” and “inner athlete” in students, so that the athletically inclined feel more free to express themselves creatively and the artistically inclined can feel more comfortable exploring physical activities.

By bringing children to these domains in terms of enjoyment, not duty or requirement, the traps of creativity slumps and physical inactivity/obesity risks can be avoided. The self-image as “artist-athlete” solidifies when a child renders it into a personal work of art, (be a painting, drawing, or digital work), such as is encouraged by the theme of the Arts Olympiad art contest, My Favorite Sport.

The Arts Olympiad Lesson Plan may take 2 to 4 class sessions to execute. We request that you kindly send your school’s entries (one best painting or drawing, and one best digital art) to us before this year’s end. A prominent panel of judges in Washington, D.C. will select your country’s winners, who will be invited to represent your country at the World Children’s Festival in Washington, D.C. in June 2015.

The International Child Art Foundation does not charge any fee for participation in the Arts Olympiad or registration for the World Festival. At the same time, we do not provide any financial support for travel, accommodation, etc. Parents or local sponsors must cover travel and accommodation expenses of the Arts Olympiad winners, their parents and school principal.

Part 1: Instructional Group Activities

The activities suggested below will allow students to develop connections between art and sport, express their opinions, and create their own individual artwork. You can select any combination of the activities described below and modify these to fit your curriculum.

Activity A. The Olympics Art Competitions

Have your students read the article on the competitions in the Smithsonian Magazine or the book, The Forgotten Olympic Art Competitions, to discuss the role of art in sport. You may also have them answer these questions:

1. Should the Olympic Art Competitions be reinstated? Why? For what age group?
2. What is your favorite sport and sport event? Why?
3. In which cities will the Winter Olympics in 2014 and 2018 and Summer Olympics in 2016 and 2020 be held? What about 2022 and 2024?

Activity B. The Purpose of Art and Sport

Have your students read the ChildArt Magazine. Divide the class into two groups: “Artists” and “Athletes.” Students are to develop and write down their response to these questions:

Questions posed to “Artists”:

Question 1. Why do people run, play soccer, climb trees, etc…?

Question 2. How would you feel if you were playing a Sport?

Questions posed to “Athletes”:

Question 1. Why do people draw, paint, sculpt, dance, etc…?

Question 2. How would you feel if you were creating Art?

Once they have finished writing their answers, the students are put in Artist-Athlete pairs to discuss their responses with one another and to answer one final question: What are the similarities between why people create Art or participate in Sports? At the end, each group may present their answers to the class.

Activity C. Thinking Beyond the Stereotype

Have your students view some of the artwork on the ICAF website. Introduce students to the Artist-Athlete Ideal℠ of the creative mind and healthy body—mens sana in corpore sano (“a healthy mind in a healthy body”). Anyone be an artist and athlete, and anyone can be creative and athletic.

This activity is designed to encourage students to look beyond old assumptions and break stereotypes. Class should be divided into teams of three or four with each group assigned one of the following objects. The questions below ask students to reflect and conceive a sport using an art object, or conceive an art project using a sport object.
Groups with Art Object:

What is the name of the sport?
What are the rules of the sport?
How is the object used in the sport?
How is the use of the object in the game different from its common usage?

Groups with Sport Object:

What is the name of the art project?
What materials are needed for the art project?
What are the steps for making the art project?
How is the use of the object in the art project different from its common usage?

Activity D. Building Peace through Art and Sport

Have your students read about the World Children’s Festival and watch the YouTube clip. Students are to discuss the following quotation by Nobel laureate Nelson Mandela:

“Art and sport have the powers to change the world, the power to inspire, the power to unite people in a way that little else can. Art and sport speak to people in a language they understand. Art and sport can create hope where there was once only despair. They are instruments for peace, even more powerful than governments.”

Part 2: Independent Art Creation

Students are to create art on the theme, My Favorite Sport. They can select any sport to picture themselves as “artist-athletes.” The sport can be a local, traditional or an Olympic sport, or one that they imagine. The students can produce a painting/drawing or digital art.

Traditional 2-D Art
A painting or drawing on paper, canvas, or silk approximately 18x24 inches (45x60 cm) in size

Digital Art
Static visual work created using digital tools or a collage (300+ dpi)

Part 3: Exhibition and Selection of School Entry

- Organize an exhibition of the artwork produced under the Arts Olympiad
- Form a panel of judges responsible for selecting the school entry
- Include a few students as judges to provide an intergenerational perspective on aesthetics
- The judges should give equal weight to originality/creativity as technical/aesthetic merit to select one best painting and one best digital art
- Complete the School Entry Form (attached as Appendix) and send the entries to the ICAF as early as possible but no later than December 10, 2013

Mail:
International Child Art Foundation, P. O. Box 58133, Washington, DC 20037, USA

UPS/FedEx:
International Child Art Foundation, 2540 Virginia Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20037, USA

Email:

Sending School Entry
The painting or drawing should be mailed to the ICAF (packaged flat and not rolled up). The finalist digital art can be emailed, or a CD can be mailed along with the painting/drawing. The School Entry Form should be completed for both categories. This form could be taped to the back of the painting/drawing. For digital art, the form can be scanned and emailed to the ICAF.

OFFICIAL DELEGATES TO THE WORLD CHILDREN’S FESTIVAL

Held on the National Mall in Washington, DC every four years as the “Olympics” of children’s imagination and co-creation, the 5th World Children’s Festival will be a 3-day educational event free and open to the public to be held in the spring/summer of 2015.

A jury of eminent artists and educators in Washington, DC will select the winning entries (one in painting category and one in digital art category) from entries including that of your school. The Official Delegations to the World Children’s Festival are these Arts Olympiad winners, their parents, the school principal and teachers.

The ICAF selects 50 school groups to perform at the festival. All types of performances are entertained. Your school can apply when the performance applications are posted on www.WorldChildrensFestival.org in January 2014.

Your school can also send a delegation to the festival, even if the school’s entry or performance group is not selected.
